

Accreditation Assistance Services

Excalibur Education Group

Accreditation is the most important internal review that a college or university undertakes and represents an opportunity to clarify the institution's missions and goals. However, it can also be a burdensome and intimidating process, and the Excalibur Team can help guide your campus leadership through the accreditation process.

Why Excalibur?

The Excalibur Education team members have in-depth knowledge of accreditation, having been involved in the process as both faculty and administration. The Excalibur team has served on site committees for accrediting bodies such as the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) and conducted reviews of the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP). Documenting effectiveness and improvement to have courageous conversations with institutional leaders is forefront to what Excalibur Education does.

Accreditation Services

The Excalibur Education Group offers the following services for assistance with accreditation.

- Accreditation Report Overview and Organization
- Faculty and mid-management development of learning outcomes and program goals.
- Accreditation Report Editing and Review
- General Education Outcomes Review
- Targeted institutional improvement initiative (e.g. SACS's Quality Enhancement Plan) formulation and review

The Excalibur Process

Regardless of the services selected to help your institution with the accreditation process, the Excalibur team will work with campus leadership to design a plan that fits the institution. The services provided commonly include meetings with campus leadership, targeted focus groups (internal and external), data analysis, review of outcomes, SWOT analysis, and report editing and writing.
